About

Risk workshops work best when the people closest to the work speak up, but many participants aren't always sure why they've been invited or what a "good" contribution looks like. That uncertainty can lead to silence, hesitation, or missed insights at exactly the moment they matter most.

This short, practical course is designed as a pre-workshop activity, helping participants understand their role and how to contribute effectively. It shows how to raise risks clearly, challenge constructively, and share real-world insights without needing to be a risk expert. By focusing on behaviors that make workshops productive and inclusive, the course helps unlock better conversations, stronger risk understanding, and a safer, more effective risk culture.

Course Expectations:

- Watch 5 videos
- Access 2 downloadable material
- Answer 5 quiz questions
- Time: 15 minutes of video content
- Approximately 20 minutes for the whole course
